

Small Presses/Local Books/Self Published Authors – Will you stock my book?

The short answer is it depends. We like to support authors who are local, where the book content has local relevance, or where we think we have a market for it.

We buy all our books on a sale or return basis and, where possible, it is helpful if we can buy your book on trade terms (ie. commercially viable discount) from our wholesaler, Gardners.

If we agree to buy your book direct from you, we accept a standard discount (please email us at info@mainstreetbooks.co.uk to enquire for details), sale or return.

We reserve the right not to stock your book.